

AERIAL NAVIES DROP THEIR DEADLY HAIL

AEROPLANES OF GERMANS AND FRENCH MAKE SORTIES

Bombardment of Nancy Resumed and Teutons Occupy Several Positions of Enemy, But Forced to Retire

(By Associated Press.)
PARIS, Jan. 25.—The Serbian towns of Monastir and Givgell have again been attacked by French aeroplanes, according to a Havas dispatch. It is estimated that a hundred were killed or wounded at Givgell. Sixteen aeroplanes made the attack and returned safely. The bombardment of Nancy has been renewed, the Germans using long range guns. Two persons were wounded. German aeroplanes also attacked Nancy, but did little damage. After long inactivity in Belgium heavy fighting occurs again, with the initiative at the hands of the Germans. An official announcement says after a heavy bombardment the Germans launched an infantry attack over a front of fifteen hundred yards near Nieuport. They occupied some French positions, but subsequently were expelled from most of this territory.

DESERTER SENTENCED LIFE IMPRISONMENT

INFANTRYMAN PAYS PENALTY FOR KILLING A CHINESE POLICEMAN

(By Associated Press.)
SHANGHAI, Jan. 25.—John Rohrer, a deserter from the Fifteenth U. S. Infantry at Tien-tsin, has been sentenced to life imprisonment by Judge C. S. Lobinger, of the United States court, for the murder of a Chinese policeman at Chien Ping, in Chi-li province, last June.

Hilton A. Williams, the companion of Rohrer, and also a deserter from the Tien-tsin barracks, was given in the same court a three-year sentence for horse-stealing.

After leaving their command at Tien-tsin, carrying rifles with them, the men made their way to the Great Wall and gradually worked their way to Mukden, where they represented themselves to be British subjects.

The men stole horses and clothing from Chinese and Rohrer killed the Chinese policeman in an effort to avoid arrest. The prisoners will be sent to the United States prison in the Philippines.
